Synergies between Team-Based Learning and Blockchain: Practical Applications

COURSE OBJECTIVES AND CONTENTS

Professor Larry Michaelsen will lead three workshops dedicated to methodological and technological innovation.

Participants, including agricultural entrepreneurs, will have the unique opportunity to learn directly from the inventor of Team-Based Learning and explore the intersections between this methodology and blockchain applications in higher education thanks to another exceptional speaker, Professor Radu State of the University of Luxembourg.

The various scientific directors of the PRIN 2020 WEBEST research units will also be present.

The workshops will be held in English with the support of Professor M. Russo, Dr. Valentina Di Francesco, and Dr. Juliana Carina Bagetti.
